Roman Gallic Helmet made in cooperation with the Roman Museum Augsburg. The find dates most probably to 15/16 CE, so is a rather early type of the Weisenau-series, other than originally thought by H.R. Robinson, who dated the helmet by style to the later second half of the first century. This Roman Helmet is a replica made of 18 gauge steel. This wearable helmet is excellent for battle reenactment or as part of halloween costume. Red hair.
