Original licensed product from the classic movie Gladiator. Maximus Decimus Meridius (Russell Crowe) wore this helmet as general before he became a gladiator. Made of hand worked steel with a coating of antique brass, it includes a real horsehair crest and an adjustable liner. This helmet is based directly from the screen-worn prop and is worthy of any Roman general. A silver-plated wolf's head is fixed to the front, inlaid leather along the sides and an adjustable cloth liner makes this helmet stunning as well as practical. Display stand is included. Made by Windlass Steelcrafts.
